EARL LI WILL NEGOTIATE WITH POWERS FOR PEACE

It Is Reported That An Edict to That Effect Has Been Issued By the Chinese Imperial Government At Pekin.

STILL ANOTHER MESSAGE FROM CONGER

Relief Force Must Be of Sufficient Strength to Protect 800 Foreigners and 3,000 Native Christians Who Cannot Be Left to Massacres.

Shanghai, Aug. 10—[Special Cablegram]—It is announced here that an edict has been issued at Pekin appointing Li Hung Chang to negotiate with the powers for peace.

Another Message from Conger

Washington, Aug. 10—[Special Telegram]—At nine o'clock this morning Minister Wu started for the state department with another message from Conger, which was received at 12:30 o'clock last night. At the department it is stated that the dispatch is dated Aug. 9th, and probably left Pekin two days earlier.

It is identical with that from the French minister saying that the allied forces must be of sufficient strength when they reach Pekin to protect the eight hundred foreigners and three thousand native Christians who cannot be left to be massacred.

Secretary Adee says it is evident that the ministers at Pekin decided to send identical notes to their respective governments.

American Loss 9 Killed

Washington, Aug. 10—[Special Telegram]—Conger's message, besides repeating many details given by the French minister, says the American loss was nine killed and sixteen wounded, Captain Meyers and Dr. Lippitt, wounded, are doing well.

Five Missionaries Murdered

Shanghai, Aug. 10—[Special Cablegram]—Five German missionaries belonging to Bishop Anzer's Catholic mission at Chinan Fu, have been murdered. Director of Telegraphs Sheng hears that Li Ping Heng, recently appointed a generalissimo for the Chinese troops at Pekin, has gone in the direction of Yang Tsen with 15,000 picked soldiers, to resist the advance of the allies.

ALLIES' LOSS AT YANG TSUN HEAVY

Town Was Strongly Fortified About 18 Miles From Tien Tsin.

London, Aug. 10—In the capture of Yang Tsun the losses of the allies, according to a dispatch to the Daily Express from Chefoo, dated Aug. 8, purporting to give an account of that engagement, were 200, the majority of these being killed.

"The allies marched on Yang Tsun," says this report, "at dawn on Monday. The position was held by 1,500 Chinese, was well intrenched to the seat of the river. After four hours' heavy fighting the Chinese were driven from their defense works."

Another dispatch from the same paper dated Tien Tsin, Aug. 6, recounts a reconnoissance that morning by the Japanese beyond Hsiku, the result being that the enemy was developed in strong force, well fortified at Wei Ho. The Chinese were superior in numbers and after facing the fire of seven guns the Japanese retired in Hsiku, with three killed and twenty-seven wounded, but having captured 200 horses.

With the exception of these messages General Chaffee's report is the only account published by the London morning papers telling of the capture of Ysang Tsun.

A NEW DIFFICULTY HAS ARISEN

Country About Pekin Is Reported to Be Changed Into a Lake

London, August 10—A new difficulty has arisen which, it is feared, will prove more potent in delaying the advance of the Chinese troops, and that is the rains.

The country around Pekin is reported changed into a vast lake, and many experts agree in the view of the Japanese and Russian commanders that an immediate advance is almost useless.

The determination of the ministers, however, not to risk the lives of the foreigners by quitting the Chinese capital with an imperial guard is likely to spur the government to order an immediate advance at all costs.

The English press sees little that is encouraging in the news of the latest messages from the ministers, save as an indication that they can only hold out a short while longer.

Waldersee Starts Aug. 22.

Berlin, Aug. 10—[Special Cablegram]—Field Marshal Waldersee will proceed to China via Naples, on August 22.

St. Paul, Aug. 10—Twenty-nine Minnesota Democratic newspapers have deserted Bryan and declared for McKinley since Bryan declared so emphatically for 16 to 1 and against the administration's policy. There have been established during the same period twenty-five republican newspapers, making fifty-four gained for the republican party.

During the same time only nine papers that were republican in politics two years, have, largely through the change of ownership, espoused the cause of Bryan and there has been but nine democratic papers established, a gain of eighteen. This gives the republican cause in this campaign considerable more than 300 zealous newspaper advocates in Minnesota, not counting those in three large counties of the state.

Madison, Wis Aug. 10—Robert M. LaFoleitte was given a rousing welcome home by the citizens of Madison last evening on his return home from the state convention. He arrived on an earlier train than was expected owing to the illness, not serious, of his oldest boy.

Late yesterday afternoon Mayor Hoven issued a proclamation in compliance with which several thousand citizens gathered in the Capitol Park, and, headed by a band, followed by the members of the city council in carriages, marched to La Follette's home. The crowd, numbering over 5,000 covered the extensive lawn, and Mr. La Follette and his charming wife standing on the steps of their porch shook hands with each as the crowd passed in line before them.

President Hayes of the council welcomed Mr. La Follette on behalf of the city, and the next governor responded in a speech which showed how deeply he felt the greeting. SOME HOPE FOR COOLER WEATHER

Slight Drop In Barometer May Bring Thunder Storm Tonight.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN

Death Rate Among Infants In Chicago and Milwaukee Is Unprecedented.

HEAT ALL OVER THE COUNTRY

Chicago, Aug. 10—[Special Telegram]—After six days of warm weather and after all records for the duration of warm periods in Chicago have been broken, the local forecast official sees a sign of slightly moderate temperature.

Barometers within the lake region have fallen. This ordinarily indicates a fall of the mercury, but according to Professor Bigelow the barometer may rise again today. There is a possibility that there will be thunder storms tonight.

All August Records Broken

All records for the month of August have been broken. Never before has the mean temperature for that month been so high. The mean temperature for the first nine days of August in the present year is 88.22. The highest mean temperature observed for the month in previous years was taken in 1892, when the mean temperature was 75.4 degrees.

High Temperature Record

During the six days of the hot spell the thermometer has averaged above ninety degress for twenty-nine hours. The maxium temperature during the hot spell has averaged from ninety-two to ninety-four degrees. Three of the six days the thermometer has registered ninety-four degrees.

The mercury still ranges over ninety today and at 2 o'clock six deaths and hundreds of prostrations had been reported. The death rate among infants is enormous.

THE WHOLE COUNTRY IN A SWELTER

Torrid Weather Is Not Confined to Any Particular Section.

Milwaukee, Wis., August 10—The people of Milwaukee are nearly melted by the intense heat. For nearly a week they have sweltered under a boiling sun that has officially recorded from 92 to 95 in the shade, according to the government weather clerk. Outdoor business is almost at a standstill, and painters, carpenters, stonemasons and iron-workers have been laid off in scores. The undertaker, however, is a busy man, the rate of mortality showing an increase of more than 100 per cent in five days. Health department officials declare that this is a record breaker, and that unless there is a change within the next twenty-four hours the report they will have to make will be a good deal worse.

The reports at the health office show that there was one death in the city every hour during the past twenty-four hours, twelve of the victims being under 12 years of age. A majority of the deaths are indirectly due to the heat.

Oshkosh, Wis, Aug. 10—For five days Oshkosh has sweltered. The government thermometer, which always registers some six degrees below private thermometers, has never fallen below 90. Yesterday it registered 96. There have been four deaths directly ascribable to the heat.

Marinette, Wis., Aug. 10—The thermometer here registered 97 degrees in the shade, the hottest day of the year.

Manitowoc, Wis., Aug. 10—The extreme heat which began here last Sunday morning still continues. The thermometer has hovered between 90 and 100 degrees in the shade for four days.

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 10—The heat here is intense. Ninety-four degrees is the highest recorded at the weather bureau, but on the streets the mercury has gone up as high as 130 degrees.

Knoxville, Tenn., August 10—The heat record was broken today. There were several prostrations.

Pittsburg, Pa., August 10—The torrid wave shows no sign of abatement. At 1 o'clock this afternoon the mercury registered 94 degrees and still climbing. Two deaths and seven prostrations were reported.

"I regard the news from the Philippines as particularly encouraging," the admiral is quoted as saying to the Eagle correspondent. "Aguinaldo's lieutenants are surrendering, one after another. Whatever show of resistance to our authority there is at the present time in the Philippines will be kept up until after our election in November. Former Senator of Montana Is Not in Favor of Pulling Down the American Flag.

Butte, Montana, August 10—Ex-United States Senator Lee Martin, chairman of the state committee of the silver republicans, has written a letter formally renouncing his allegiance to that party and going back to the republican party.

Mr. Mantle says in effect that the silver question is dead and that it had been abandoned practically by the democratic party and even by the democratic delegates from Montana to the national convention, where the delegates from this state and the committee on resolutions refused to vote on the 16 to 1 question.

"To my mind the paramount issue of today is the issue of maintaining the honor and dignity of the nation and the supremacy of its flag, wherever it is rightfully floating."

NO SHOW FOR FITZ IN A LONG FIGHT

He Must Hurry Up If He Is Going to Beat Ruhlin Tonight.

OPINIONS ARE DIVIDED

Ruhlin's Advantage In Weight and Age and Better In Test of Endurence.

BOTH IN GOOD CONDITION

New York, Aug. 10—[Special Telegram]—The big Fitzsimmons-Ruhlin boxing contest takes place in Madison Square garden tonight and is the universal topic of interest in Gotham today. An enormous crowd will attend. Both of the contestants this morning issued proclamations as follows:

Those fellows who think I am a "has-been" will change their opinion after my bout with Ruhlin. My hands are just as serviceable as they ever were and my strength and hitting powers remain unchanged.

ROBERT FITZSIMMONS.

Fitzsimmons is a cunning fellow in the ring, but he will have to spring something mighty original to lead me into a trap that will give him an opportunity to secure a knockout. I think I will win, and I think I will do the trick inside of fifteen rounds.

AUGUST RUHLIN.

Fitz Must Do It Quick

If Bob Fitzsimmons wins his fight with Gus Ruhlin tonight it must be within eight, or, at the limit, ten rounds.

This is the almost unanimous voice of the pugilistic experts gathered to witness a battle which may be considered hardly secondary to a championship encounter, marking as it does the real try-out of the most likely aspirants for the Jeffries scepter, the young giant from Akron.

Should the red top fighting machine fail to end the encounter within that period, then youth and strength will tell and Ruhlin will have taken his most important step toward the championship goal.

Pin Their Faith on Red Top

But despite this opinion a majority of the wise followers of the game fancy Fitzsimmon's chances. They discount his twenty-five pounds disadvantage in weight and his ten years in age, pinning their faith upon that cunning which swept all until he met defeat before the giant strength of Jeffries.

This class expects Fitz to whip across his right—that injured right—before Ruhlin recovers from the nervousness and timidity which surely marks the less experienced man battling for a great stake money, but, dearer still, reputation and a chance at the champion.

Will Be a Bout of Cleverness.

At both camps the day was spent quietly, lest the final piece of overwork or slight injury might militate against the chances. If it is granted that Fitzsimons' right is as strong as ever there would be no margin of difference on the score of the condition.

The ex-champion's trainers and Fitzsimmons himself say the arm is all right. The outsider must take their word for it. Barring accident, the fight then simmers down to a bout of cleverness, hitting power and strength between the two pugilists.

Youth In Favor of Ruhlin.

Fitzsimmons is certainly clever in a crafty way, and his tactics, subject to sudden changes in the ring, make him a dangerous man at all times. He has years of ring experience which cannot fail to instill a certain amount of fighting intuition.

In comparison with this Ruhlin is a novice, but he has had the benefit of Jim Corbett's coaching, and will have the latter's advice in the ring. The man who defeated Sharkey must have gained confidence, and counts for much and indirectly begets cleverness.

FIRE CAUSED A LOSS OF $150,000

Big Blaze in the Lumber Yards of Marinette Last Evening—Threatened the Whole Town.

Marinette, Wis, Aug. 10—A fire which started from a spark in the lumber yard of the Polska Industrial company at Crevitz, yesterday afternoon caused a loss of $150,000 and threatened at one time to wipe out the entire town.

Assistance sent by the fire departments of Marinette, Green Bay and Menominee prevented the flames from devouring the business portion of the town and confined it to the lumber yard and adjoining buildings.

Five million feet of lumber, 6,000,000 shingles and a big stock of lath, ten dwelling houses and a number of warehouses and sheds were burned, causing a loss conservatively estimated at $150,000.

SINNISSIPI CLUB WON THE GOLF GAME

MINNEAPOLIS TEAM WERE NO MATCH FOR LOCAL MEN.

Janesville Players Were In Fine Form and Played the Game of Their Lives—Decisive Victory Shown In the Score of 41 to 3—Defeated Team Want Revenge.

Once more victory has perched on the standard of the Sinnissippi Golf club. The crack team of golf players from Minneapolis met defeat yesterday afternoon at the hands of the local club. It was not a close game, and ever at any time after the first round was finished were the home players in any danger. It was a most decisive victory as the score of 41 to 3 will show.

The Janesville players were in fine form, and had nerved themselves up to playing the game of their lives, as the Minneapolis club had the reputation of being a hard team to beat, and would put up a great game. Whether it was the peculiar rolling character of the grounds or the unusually fast greens that caused the trouble, cannot be told. The grounds of the Minnekahda club are rolling, but not so much so as the Sinnissippi course and their greens are kept watered and green so that they do not get dry and fast. It is difficult to judge the force to use on a long put on a fast ground and it was to this fact that the Minnekahda boys lay their defeat more than anything else.

The grounds were almost perfect yesterday afternoon, every effort having been made by the green committee to have the grounds in as fine shape as possible so that in case the Janesville club should win the visitors could not lay it to the fact that the course was in bad shape.

The visitors left last night on the 7:15 train for Chicago where they will play the Glen View club today and the Riversides tomorrow. They will have to put up a much stronger game in Chicago than they did at this city or they will not be able to score against the Chicago cracks.

L. B. Newell, one of the visitors, lost six dollars by missing a short put. The visitors chipped in a dollar each and made a pool which was to go to the member of the team winning by the largest score. Hood had finished his match and won by two up, at the last hole Newell had a short put to make to win the hole which would have left him a tie with Hood as to the number of holes won and have divided the pool, fortunately for Hood he missed the shot and left Hood the winner.

The Minnekahda club team is composed of a party of gentlemen that can take a defeat pleasantly as well as enjoy a victory and they hope at no distant time to get the Janesville team on their grounds for a return match and get revenge.

It would have been unfortunate for the Sinnissippi team to have lost the match as they have never been defeated but once on the home grounds by an outside team and that was by Milwaukee two years ago when the number of good players was small. They would find it an entirely different proposition at present, as the club can put up a team of fifteen men that are hard to beat on their own grounds. The score is as follows:

	Minnekahda.	Sinnissippi.

To Meet Rockford Aug. 17

Word has been received by C. E. Pierce of the handicap and games committee, that the Rockford Golf club would send a team of twelve men to meet a like number from the home club on August 17. It is reported that "B" class players will meet the visitors. The Rockford club was opened this spring, and it is not expected that the team will have many seasoned players, and that the B class players will be able to hold them down.

The Winona club are expected during the week of the 20th. They, like the Minneapolis club, will be on a trip to Chicago, and have arranged to spend a day in Janesville. On Tuesday afternoon the finals for the Valentine medal will be played. Mrs. C. L. Fifield and Mrs. F. E. Fifield are the contestants. The semi finals for the Hart medal will also be played.

There will also be a handicap match against "Bogey" for two boxes of balls, donated by two of the members, which will de divided into four prizes. No entrance fee will be charged and the contest is open to all. Entries should be made with Secretary J. P. Baker before Monday night, so that the handicap committee can arrange the handicaps

METEORITE SHOWER TONIGHT

Beautiful Display of Falling Stars Due After Sun Goes Down.

If the sky is clear tonight a brilliant display of meteorites or shooting stars may be seen. The spectacle began last night and will continue through tomorrow night, though it will be most brilliant tonight The radiant or point from which the shooting stars seem to diverge for this shower is in the group Perseus. In Europe this shower is known as St. Lawrence's tears because it occurs on the festival of St. Lawrence. The November showers, which were due last November but which failed to appear, will be watched by astronomers with interest. These meteorites are known as Leonids because they have their radiant in the Leon constellation. They are supposed to appear every thirty-three years. The August shower appears annually.

MAN AND WIFE DEAD.

Young Couple Take Their First Ride In a Railway Train.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 10.—Washington Turner, a young man, his wife and baby, boarded a train at Anniston bound for McFall, twelve miles distant. They had never before been on board a train, and as it sped along they became very anxious. The conductor assured them that the engine would whistle for their station and bade them be calm. Half a mile from McFall the whistle screamed, and Turner and his wife, fearing they would be carried by, seized their baby and, rushing to the door of the car, leaped off the swiftly moving train. Turner was instantly killed, his wife receiving injuries from which she died in half an hour, while the baby escaped with a broken leg.

FATALITIES FROM HEAT.

Scores Are Prostrated by the Fierce Rays of the Sun.

Philadelphia, Aug. 10.—Extreme heat continues throughout the central and eastern states, and the list of victims is growing larger with each hour. Philadelphia reports three deaths and twenty prostrations for the day. Pittsburg, two deaths and seven prostrations; and Easton, Pa., dispatches tell of one man killed by the heat. Thermometers in Philadelphia and Pittsburg registered above 94 degrees. New York, although the temperature reached 95 degrees, had only one fatal sunstroke. All through Wisconsin the hot weather prevails, Milwaukee reporting two deaths. At Dubuque, Ia., there was one fatal prostration. Chicago reports four deaths and sixteen prostrations for the day.

Fear for Lord Russell.

London, Aug. 10.—Lord Chief Justice Russell, who has been ill some time, underwent an operation, as the case failed to show improvement. The physicians report that Lord Russell stood the shock well and that his strength holds out aginst the effects of the disease. His lordship is regarded as seriously ill, despite the encouraging reports of the physicians.

McFadden Knocks Out McPartland.

New York, Aug. 10.—George McFadden experienced little difficulty in disposing of Kid McPartland in sixteen rounds at the Broadway club. The fight from a scientific point of view did not set the world afire. It was simply a case of hit and clinch from start to finish. McFadden was the tougher and stronger, and that won for him.

Found a Way to Kill Himself.

Columbus, O., Aug. 10.—F. M. Renick of Falling Springs, W. Va., who was tired of life, tried five times with poison to end his existence, but failed. He leaped fifty feet from the dome of the statehouse here to the stone flagging in a court, and was dashed to death.

Chicago Disputes Census Figures.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Chicago has a population of more than 2,000,000, according to the school census which was completed yesterday. The clerks of the school board laughed the United States figures on Chicago's population to scorn.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended, and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering. Yours truly, Mrs. Geo. F. Burdick, Liberty, R. I. For sale by Smith's Pharmacy, next to postoffice; Kodak agents.

Kurds Slay 200 Armenians.

Constantinople, Aug. 10.—Advices received from Bitlis, Asiatic Turkey, say that 200 men, women and children have been massacred in the Armenian village of Spaghank, in the district of Sassun, by troops and Kurds under Ali Basha, the commandant of Bitlis. He is also said to have ordered the village to be burned.

Was the Girl Kidnaped?

Elgin, Ill., Aug. 10.—Carrie Peters, aged 13 years, is believed to have been kidnaped from her home near Huntley. She disappeared Sunday, while playing in the orchard, and diligent search has failed to give the slightest clew.

During the civil war, as well as in our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases that the army had to deal with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Mr. David Taylor of Wind Ridge, Green Co., Pa., is one of these. He uses Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give him such quick relief. It is for sale by Smith's Pharmacy, next to P. O., Kodak agents.

AFRICAN WAR AN ISSUE.

It Will Control the Fall Elections in England.

London, Aug. 10.—Discussion was fierce last night in the house of commons on the South African war. Opposition members boldly charged Mr. Chamberlain with willful dalliance. Though public interest in the war has visibly waned, its issues will dominate the general elections this fall. The government is by no means convinced that the end of the war is in sight, and it is significant that re-enforcing drafts for two regiments at the front have been ordered to be ready to move to the seat of war.

Killed in Train Wreck.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 10.—The accommodation train which left here at 6:30 o'clock on the Duluth and Iron Range railroad, was wrecked at Knife river, about twenty miles from Duluth, and Fireman Bruley was killed, and Engineer Pettibone was slightly injured. The train ran into a washout and six cars were overturned. The engineer and fireman had no time to jump, and Bruley was completely buried under the engine.

Fire Destroys Tube Works.

Beaver Falls, Pa., Aug. 10.—Fire totally destroyed the works of the Shelby Steel Tube company and the Boston Electroduct company, doing damage to the extent of $300,000. The fire burned so fiercely that for a time it was feared the Union Drawn Steel works would also be destroyed, but by heroic efforts the firemen kept the flames from spreading. The loss was fully covered by insurance.

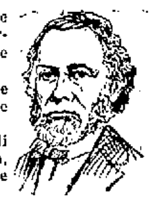
THIS DAY IN HISTORY.



J. W. Marshall.

1672—John and Cornelius de Witt, Dutch statesmen, murdered by a mob at The Hague.
1792—Parisian mob stormed the Tuileries and massacred the Swiss guards.
1810—Count Camillo Benso di Cavour, Italian statesman, born in Turin; died there 1861.
1861—General Nathaniel Lyon, the hero of the west in 1861, killed at the battle of Wilson's Creek; born 1819. General Lyon fell while leading the attack upon a strong body of the enemy. He went so near the Confederate line that he and the aids accompanying recognized the leaders of the opposing force. His body fell into the hands of the enemy and was restored to his friends through the efforts of a lady residing near the field. It was embalmed and finally entombed at his birthplace in Connecticut.
1868—Adah Isaacs Menken, noted actress and equestrienne, died in Paris; born in New Orleans 1835.
1885—James W. Marshall, discoverer of gold in California, died at Kelsey, Cal.; born 1812.
1898—Ellen Louise Demorest, founder of the Demorest Magazine, died in New York city; born 1824. San Diego de Viva, noted impresario, died in New York city; born 1822.

One of the pleasantest episodes in connection with the republican state convention was witnessed at the Hotel Pfister yesterday morning, says The Sentinel. The four men who entered the contest for the nomination for governor, Senator Whitehead, Gen. Rogers, Ira B. Bradford and Senator Stebbins, met in the lobby of the hotel and forming in line, marched to the headquarters of Robert M. La Follette, where Gen. Rogers said:

"Mr. La Follette we have called here for the purpose of striking our colors and surrendering to you. From this time forward we are all of us for Bob La Follette."

Constant Reader—We cannot inform you of the exact date on which the new police system will be inaugurated. We only have the promise of the powers that be, but hope the change will not be delayed beyond a reasonable time. Two or three months have passed since the present understanding was reached, so doubtless the arrangements are about complete.

Janesville is still spending money enough, in rentals, etc., to pay the interest on a bond issue sufficient to build that much needed modern city hall building. What do we have to show for this expenditure? Nothing. Is such a policy to be commended?

Good streets are greatly to be desired, but should so much solid macadam be laid before a sewerage system is put in? This question is an important one and should receive attention.

Well could the state convention point with pride to Gov. Scofield's administration. It has been all that the most exacting could ask.

All the speculation as to whether or not Mr. Bryan would accept the nomination are now at an end. He has accepted, and says he's glad to get it.

H. C. Adams appears to be a good judge of English as well as an authority on cheese, and pumpkin raising.

Boss Buckley has issued his orders, evidently, and they are now being carried out.

A NON-PARTISAN HOME ESTIMATE.

The Madison Democrat's views on Mr. LaFollette's nomination are of interest for several reasons. The Democrat says:

The nomination of Mr. LaFollette by the republicans for governor may perhaps naturally be construed as presaging his election. A state which gave McKinley a plurality of over 100,000 four years ago and Scofield a plurality of nearly 40,000 two years later is one in whose constancy to their principles the republicans are warranted in cherishing considerable faith. But even in securing a nomination Mr. La Follette has won a great victory—and won it, too, by persevering year after year in a campaign of education. No aspirant for political honors in this commonwealth ever employed printer's ink so freely. Mr. LaFollette communed with the people. He was ever discussing public questions with them, ever evincing a willingness to proclaim his views and to support them by argument. In this way he sought and obtained the confidence of the public and the result is evidenced in the momentous events which have just transpired in Milwaukee. A politician according to the popular conception Mr. LaFollette has at any rate departed very far from the methods commonly employed by others. His bureau of education has worked out his destiny with a success truly marvelous.

A HALF BAKED IDEA.

The high browed and intellectual young man who recently took charge of the La Crosse Republican and Leader, is two years behind the times. He says:

COMES INTO THE FOLD.

The Janesville Gazette makes this gracious confession:

"The Gazette has been as outspoken to its opposition to Mr. La Follette's faction as any paper in the state, but it is willing to admit that its campaign was reluctantly made and with the hope that the time for peace would soon arrive. It is not pleasant to say harsh things of brother republicans, no matter what the occasion may be."

And then the Gazette adds this pathetic appeal for harmony:

"Come, gentlemen, let us begin the new year as friends and co-workers for the common cause. Let us wipe the past from the record books and never rake it up again. Let us all go to work as if there had been no friction, and the future will certainly take care of itself. There need be no confessions and no promises. Just let the dead past bury its dead, and close up the ranks with the knowledge that justice has been done all men."

The Leader has been the laughing stock of the state press ever since Editor Schultz was deposed, and now goes off half cocked on every possible occasion.

TOBACCO CROP MAKES BIG STRIDES

The absorbing tobacco news of the week is the sale of the Bekkedal packing to Sutter Bros. and is the first transactions in the '99 packing of importance so is likely to have considerable bearing on the future sales of this tobacco. The transaction also includes the balance of his '96 packing as well as 60 cases of '95 goods, 7,657 in all. The only other sale of note reaching us is that of 800 cases '98 and '90 goods by C. L. Culton to Eastern parties.

The new crop has been coming along with remarkable strides during the week and so far has escaped damage from hail or heavy storms in all the growing sections. The harvest has started on a few of the early fields and the coming week will become quite general. This state has seldom had finer tobacco than is now about ready for the sheds.

The shipments out of storage do not exceed 300 cases from this station to all points for the weeks past. Since last report 930 cases of cigar leaf are exported from New York—Edgerton Reporter.

PEOPLE BENEFITED.

CONDITION OF PORTO RICANS VASTLY IMPROVED.

They Appreciate the Difference Between Spanish and United States Rule—Burden of Taxation Lifted. Reforms Inaugurated.

Mr. Charles E. Buell, who was secretary of the United States special commission to Porto Rico and is familiar with the various conditions of which he speaks, makes it plain that our occupation of that beautiful island has been of greatest benefit to the people of Porto Rico. Among other things, he explains that under Spanish rule imprisonment without a hearing or the preferring of charges against the persons arrested was common, and the imprisoned persons frequently passed several years without being informed of the nature of the offense for which they had been thus held. Under American rule no more Spanish methods are permitted in dealing with those charged with unlawful acts.

Before the American occupation of Porto Rico it was a common custom to rent a burial place in the cemeteries and to demand a renewal of the rent from year to year after the first five years. A failure to promptly pay the renewal resulted in the disinterment of the body and the throwing of the skull and bones promiscuously into a common bone heap to be thereafter forever exposed to the gaze of the curious and to the action of the elements. This custom was discontinued upon an order issued by the military governor, making it unlawful to disinter bodies without a special permit from the governor general and then only for the purpose of reinterment.

Under Spanish rule the island was scourged with disease, due to insanitary conditions and to a lack of care for the people by those in authority. The military governor established a vaccine farm, and army physicians vaccinated the population of the island. Every disease is being conquered by government agencies, and every sanitary measure is being carried out to prevent filth diseases.

Under Spanish rule everything was taxed, and to all the very exacting taxes on property, real and personal, were added duties on imports, port dues and a consume tax of no small rate. In addition there were exactions by the church, which were backed by the crown and the insular government, and last, but not least, there was a governmental lottery. The mayors were instructed to sell a certain amount of the drawings, and they invited the citizens to purchase a drawing, which was understood to be a thin veiled order to contribute the amount asked for to the government.

With the occupation by the Americans the lottery disappeared, and the burden of taxation dwindled down to 15 per cent of the tariff upon imports, and, what was more important, the amounts thus collected are handed over to the island government for paying the expenses of running that government, so that the 15 per cent of the tariff does not burden the people at all.

When Porto Rico was storm swept, the quick response of our people to the cry of distress and the liberal sending of tens of thousands of tons of supplies for the stranded victims of the storm gave evidence of the true feeling which this country entertained toward the new possession. A loyal lady of San Juan remarked that "the United States is great because it is liberal; it is prosperous because it is humane."

Under Spanish rule the weak were robbed. The foreclosure of a mortgage was permitted in a most unwarranted manner and always to the loss of the debtor. A military order checked this. Under Spanish rule a large percentage of the property owners were absentees, conducting their estates through agencies and exacting a most ruinous course against other interests. The property of the absentee class has been put under taxable conditions that will make them bear their portion of the burden of the government which gives security to their property.

Under Spanish rule the money of the island was subject to the most extraordinary fluctuations. When the planter needed money to pay his help and for supplies, the peso would be held at 60 cents in gold, and as soon as the money had passed into the hands of the men whom the planter had owed the value of the same peso declined to 42 cents. This ruinous variation in money has been made to give place to certainty and stability by changing the currency of the island to United States currency.

Under the rule of Spain the mass of the people dared not make an outcry against any oppression. The bakers of San Juan testified that their hours of labor were from 4 o'clock p. m. until 12 o'clock noon of the following day and that they worked every day in the year. Other artisans gave similar testimony. With American occupation shorter hours were demanded without fear, and fair dealing began to take the place of the ancient wrong.

Aside from the 50,773 property owners of Porto Rico, made up largely of absentees, priests and pro-Spanish residents, the people of the island are loyal to our methods and appreciate our efforts in their behalf so far as they can realize the enactments.

Result of Prosperity.

In the last six months hogs have advanced $3 a head. Apply this to 50,000,000 hogs and there is a profit of $150,000,000 for western farmers. This is better than Wall street. It is a sure thing, the result of prosperity.

TWO LIVES LOST IN A COLLISION

Passenger On Milwaukee Road Crashes Into a Switch Engine.

HEAD END SMASH UP

Engineer Bert Schlater and Gus Abendroth of Janesville Are Killed.

NO ONE ELSE WAS INJURED

The city was startled about 1 o'clock this afternoon by the report of an awful accident on the Milwaukee road. At once crowds began to flock to the scene of the disaster from all parts of the town.

It was found that Engineer E. P. Schlater and Fireman Gus Abendroth, both residents of this city, had been instantly killed, but no one else had been hurt. The escape of the switch engine crew was miraculous. The people in the passanger train were somewhat shaken up, but sustained no harm.

Collided With a Switch Engine.

Train No. 105 of the C. M. & St. P. road due to Janesville at 12:55 collided with a switch engine pushing five loaded cars of coal in the yard toward the city. The accident took place about forty rods north of the Bluff street viaduct. The engine of the passenger train was badly demolished, the tender being driven through the front of the baggage car, and the engineer and fireman crushed between the boiler head and the coal gangway.

The passenger train consisted of two coaches and a baggage car, in charge of C. H. Spencer, of Madison, engineer, E. P. Schlater and Fireman Gus Abendroth both of this city.

The baggage car was in charge of Sandy Dimmack and Express Messenger W. B. Evans.

Passenger Train Going Fast.

They left the St. Paul station on time on their way to Madison. When just above the Bluff street viaduct they met the five coal cars being brought to the city in charge of Switchman Fenton Winans, the switch engine being in charge of Engineer Rogers and Fireman Sullivan.

The passenger train was going at a high rate of speed and before the train could be checked the passenger engine plunged into the head box car of coal, smashing the end of the car to pieces and scattering coal in all directions.

The passenger engine was telescoped, the cab being torn off and the boiler head driven back into the tender pinning the engineer and fireman between the boiler head and the side of the tender, killing them instantly.

Wreckers on the Scene.

Word was at once sent to the city and the railroad stations notified, and a crowd of officials were soon on the scene of the wreck.

P. J. O'Brien, assistant superintendent of the C. & N. W. R. R., immediately dispatched the large switch engine of the company which was transferred to the St. Paul tracks to the scene of the wreck.

The switch engines were hitched to each end of the wreck and the telescoped coal car dragged off the front of the passenger engine.

A chain was fastened to the pilot of the passenger engine by the St. Paul switch engine and the Northwestern engine was hitched to the rear of the baggage car and by hauling in opposite directions the tender of the passenger engine was pulled away from the boiler and the rescuers were enabled to extract the bodies of the dead engineer and fireman from the wreck.

Body of Schlater Terribly Bruised.

The body of Engineer Schlater was terribly burned and bruised, and stood in an upright position in the tender, his back to the boiler head, the lower part of his body being covered with coal, the upper part being exposed to view.

Fireman Abendroth lay on the left side of the tender, his body partly covered with coal and his head exposed to view.

The passenger engine was badly wrecked, the front end being smashed in, the pilot demolished, half of the smoke stack gone, and the upper works badly smashed where it ploughed into the coal car. The cab was entirely torn away, the weight of the train behind the engine and the weight of the moving cars in front, crushing it together like paper.

Two Popular Young Men

Engineer E. P. Schlater lives at 112 Madison street in this city and is one of the oldest engineers in the employ of the road. He leaves a widow and six children, who left this morning for a visit to Mineral Point and he was going to join them tonight on his return from his run.

August Abendroth, the fireman, is a son of Gustave Abendroth of 109 Terrace street and was one of the trusted employes of the company. When the bodies of the engineer and fireman were taken out of the wreck the watch of Fireman Abendroth was found to have stopped at 1:12½, which must have been close to the time the crash came that ended their existance.

Where Wreck Occurred

The place where the wreck occurred is in the yard limits of the St. Paul road and is not more than a half a mile from the center of the city. At a point a short ways below where the wreck occurred the track makes a curve and numerous box cars along the side tracks prevented the engineer of the passenger train from seeing the approaching switch engine and cars until it was too late to stop. He applied the air brakes, but was going too fast to stop the train and crashed into the box cars almost at full speed. After he saw the danger he either did not have time to jump or did not try to and was carried to his death.

The switch engine and yard crew had been out to the North Bluff street yards after coal, and had left the side track and run onto the main track with five cars of coal and started for the city. They were flying at a good rate of speed when all at once the switchman saw the passenger engine dash into view, coming toward them swifty. He immediately set two brakes, signalled the engineer and crew of the switch engine and jumped to the ground, just before the passenger engine struck them.

Baggage Car Badly Smashed.

The baggage car was badly smashed, the entire front end being crushed, the back of the tender coming through in the car. When the crash came, Express Messenger W. B. Evans was sitting in his end of the car nearest the engine and the next thing he knew he was under the end of the tender and the broken end of the car. By some miracle he was uninjured and crawled out of danger.

There were very few passengers on the train, the rear coach not having over half a dozen and the smoker three or four.

Mrs. Jennie Patterson and three children were passengers on the train and when the crash came they went in all directions but fortunately escaped injury. The only persons hurt being the engineer and fireman.

Was It a Flying Switch.

Mrs. O'Grady, residing near the scene of the accident, is said to have seen the two trains when they collided. She is said to have stated the the switching crew were making a "flying switch" with a car of coal when the accident took took place.

JANESVILLE WILL KEEP THE PLANT

WISCONSIN CARRIAGE COMPANY WILL BUILD HERE.

Subscription Asked For Has Been Raised—Deal For Location Is Being Negotiated, and Contract to Build Plant Will Be Let As Soon As Title Is Perfected.

In case there is no hitch in the plans the works of the Wisconsin Carriage company will be built at once on the lot at the corner of Milwaukee and Marion streets which has been purchased of the Andrew Palmer estate.

The subscription asked for by the company has been raised and the deal for the location made, and if the title is all right the contract for the building will be let at once and the work pushed to completion.

The specifications call for a three story brick building with a frontage of 132 feet on Milwaukee street and 132 feet on Marion street, each of the wings to be sixty feet wide.

The plant when complete with machinery, steam heating plant and a boiler room equipped with a fifty-five horse power boiler will cost in the neighborhood of $15,000. The company will employ from sixty to seventy-five hands.

It is the intention of the company to make this one of the most complete plants of its size in the state. The work turned out by the company in the past has been second to none and this standard is to be kept up in the new factory.

Malachi Fish has bought a block of stock in the company and will hereafter be associated with the other members in the active management of the plant. Mr. Fish is a hustler and will be a valuable addition to the business force of the company.

The new building will be a great improvement to West Milwaukee street. The location for a manufactory of this kind is an ideal one and combines good shipping facilities with a good location for transient trade and repair work.

The people of Janesville did well in keeping the plant in this city. Janesville cannot afford to loose a single manufacturing industry, no matter how small. The way the subscription paper was signed by the business men shows that they are alive to the business interests of the town and are willing to help keep a good business in the city.

LITTLE PROSPECT FOR QUICK RELIEF

Weather Forecast Predicts Hot Weather Saturday—Wind as Hot as Blast from a Furnace.

Fair tonight and Saturday, high temperature.

There is but little in the weather conditions prevailing throughout the country to hold out hope of cooler weather. From the rock bound coast of Maine to the sunny shores of the Pacific and from the great lakes to the warm waters of the Gulf of Mexico the same sweltering weather prevails.

Daily the sun is pouring down upon the people of the United States its burning rays and from the north come no cool winds to alleviate the general suffering.

The sun today again transferred the city into a furnace and the air throbbed with the intensity of the glare. There were strong gushes of wind but it was as hot as a blast from a furnace. The thermometers at the banks registered on an average about 92 in the shade. No prostrations reported.

MOSQUITO PESTS TORTURE GOTHAM

Fierce Plague Pestering the Inhabitants of the Great Metropolis—Come from New Jersey.

New York, Aug. 10—Last night, for the first time this summer, New Yorkers were really annoyed by mosquitoes. The man who takes care of the weather assured the public that the breezes were from the sea, and that was doubtless true, but the real land mosquito came with it.

Perhaps he was the Long Island fellow instead of his more meritorious brother from Jersey. Whichever one it was he was savage. He led his gang right into the heart of New York, where so many people live, all huddled up, that generally there are not enough mosquitoes to go around. There were more than enough last night.

Even Jersey set up a howl over the plague. Upper Bergen county is one of the few sections in Jersey that dares boast of comparative freedom from mosquitoes from one end of the summer to the other. But for two days they've quit boasting over there and gone to fighting The mosquitoes have bit the dogs, cows, chickens and babies, to say nothing of grown up men and women, until there is no peace in the whole county.

FARM BUILDINGS BURN LAST NIGHT

All the outbuildings on the farm of J. C. Wright in the town of Turtle, about 6 miles from Beloit were burned last night. The ruin is complete and the loss will reach nearly $1,000.

COME and see for yourself what values mean. Come tomorrow and get a pair of our regular $5.00 tan shoes at $2.89. Amos Rehberg & Co.

Mrs. Lake Makes Startling Statements Regarding Prohibition Before Catholic Union.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 10—"With the virtues, purity, patience and endurance of womankind drowned in the punch bowl and wine glass of wealth and the beer can of poverty, God pity our children, our home and our country."

These and other words of a similar nature were uttered by the third vice president of the Catholic Total Abstinence union, Mrs. M. L. Lake of St. Louis, in a report to the effect that drunkenness is on the increase among women, especially society women, which she made to the second session of the annual convention.

Mrs. Lake took the breath of her listeners away when she said bluntly, speaking of the use of intoxicants by society women:

"Why, would you believe it, at many afternoon teas intoxicating liquor has taken the place of tea to a noticeable extent."

SCHEMERS DUPE FRITZ GUNDLACH

Raise a Note of $9.75 to $275 and He Protests—Lot of Those Fellows Around.

Fritz Gundlach, a town of Center farmer, has been the victim of fraud by several sharp lighting rod agents. These slick people negotiated with him for over a week to buy a lightning rod and finally he agreed to buy a full outfit for $9.75, the price they had been asking was $45.

The rods and things arrived the first of the week and were promptly put in place. He gave them what he supposed was a note for $9.75 due this fall and they gave him an acknowledgment.

Mr. Gundlach is a German and he can not read or write English. A neighbor who could was shown the paper and discovered that Fritz had signed a note for $275. Mr. Gundlach immediately posted to Janesville and is advertising the note as a fraud and says it will not be paid by him.

Attorneys tell him, however, that the only defense he has got against the note is his inability to either read or write English.

It is said that Rock county is full of such sharps as these lighting rod men. All possible schemes are being worked to fleece the confiding granger. Not aday passes but what there is some complaint, but the slick swindlers always manage to avoid arrest.

FIRST REGIMENT STARTS FOR HOME

Practice March Concludes the Work at Camp Douglas—Janesville Boys to Arrive This Evening.

Camp Douglas Range, Wis., Aug. 10—The First Regiment and troop A of the First cavalry broke camp yesterday morning at 9 o'clock and took up the line of march for the banks of the Lemonweir river, seven miles away.

The troop was divided into three squads, each of which marched off by a different route. The march was designed not for an endurance test, but as an exercise in outpost duty and advance and rear guard formations.

The troops reached the Lemonweir at 4 o'clock and immediately went into camp. Each man was provided with his half of a shelter tent and two days' rations, all of which he had to carry beside his blanket, overcoat and equipment.

The weather was exceedingly warm and the march was conducted with care. The return march began at 6 o'clock this morning and the regiment reached camp three hours later. The men immediately struck the Sibleys, received their pay and took the trains for home. The Janesville battalion should reach home by 7 o'clock.

Many visitors accompanied the regiment on its march. General Boardman rode with the column. Governor Scofield and Claim Agent Mullen arrived yesterday. Last night there was an amusing mock parade.

YANGTSUN TAKEN BY ALLIES.

Second Brilliant Victory of the Vanguard.

AMERICANS SUFFER LOSSES.

Chaffee Reports That in Addition to Sixty Casualties Among the Common Soldiers Many Are Prostrated by Heat and Fatigue—On to Pekin.

Washington, Aug. 10.—The following dispatch has been received by the signal office of the army here:

"Chefoo, Aug. 9.—Yangtsun captured today. Wire us. Need own transportation. All well.

"SCRIVEN."

The following dispatch was received from Gen. Chaffee:

"Yangtsun, Aug. 6.—Yangtsun occupied today. Wounded: Second Lieut. Frank R. Long, Ninth infantry, moderate; casualties, about sixty men, Ninth United States infantry, Fourteenth United States infantry, and Battery F. Fifth United States artillery, nearly all from Fourteenth infantry; names later. Many men prostrated by heat and fatigue. CHAFFEE."

This loss is regarded at the war department as not particularly heavy for the force engaged, and while it is regretted there should be such a casualty list, the tone of Chaffee's dispatch is altogether rather hopeful.

The allies marched on Pei Tsang Sunday morning and routed the Chinese, taking that place. The next morning they moved up the Pei-ho a distance of ten miles, and, according to Gen. Chaffee's dispatch, drove the Chinese out of Yangtsun, occupying that place the same day.

That is considered a brilliant victory for the comparatively small force of foreign troops in the relief expedition. It was expected that the Chinese would make their strongest resistance at these two places. The imperial troops had for some days been engaged in throwing up earthworks at Pei Tsang and preparing to make a stubborn resistance against the advance of the foreigners. That the relief expedition should have been able to move on and take Yangtsun, which was regarded as the best strategic point between Tientsin and Pekin, shows to military authorities that the allies have a thorough understanding of the campaign they are conducting and also that the imperial troops are more or less demoralized since the fight at Tientsin, and unable to make an effective stand.

Yangtsun is the town which Gen. Chaffee indicated in his dispatch as being the objective of the international forces on their then pending movement. It is at the junction of the Peiho and the railroad leading to Pekin. Its capture will insure to the international troops, it is hoped, two routes of transportation to Pekin. It is 17½ miles from Tientsin.

More Glory for Russians.

Shanghai, Aug. 10.—The Russians, after a terrific battle with the Chinese at New Chwang, have captured the city, reports the courier of Hearst's Chicago American.

The Russians carried the forts by storm and fought the Chinese in their trenches, which were constructed with great ingenuity. The defensive works of the Chinese were very formidable. They were also greatly superior in numbers to the attacking force, but were badly led and gathered in great masses, which were torn to pieces by the Russians' shells and mowed down by their rifle fire. After capturing the defensive works the Russians took possession of the native city and destroyed it by fire.

MESSAGE TO CHINA.

Acting Secretary of State Makes Terms Positive.

Washington, Aug. 10.—The message sent by the United States to China is as follows:

"We are availing ourselves of the opportunity offered by the imperial edict of Aug. 5 allowing to the foreign ministers free communication with their respective governments in cipher, and have sent a communication to Minister Conger, to which we await an answer.

"We are already advised by him, in a brief dispatch received Aug. 7, that imperial troops are firing daily upon the ministers in Pekin. We demand the immediate cessation of hostile attacks by imperial troops upon the legations, and urge the exercise of every power and energy of the imperial government for the protection of the legations and all foreigners therein.

"We are also advised by the same dispatch from Minister Conger that, in his opinion, for the foreign ministers to leave Pekin, as proposed in the edict of Aug. 2, would be certain death. In view of the fact that the imperial troops are now firing upon the legations, and in view of the doubt expressed by the imperial government in its edict of Aug. 2 as to its power to restore order and secure absolute safety in Pekin, it is evident that this apprehension is well founded, for if your government cannot protect our minister in Pekin, it will, presumptively, be unable to protect him upon a journey from Pekin to the coast.

"We therefore urge upon the imperial government that it shall adopt the course suggested in the third clause of the letter of the president to his majesty the emperor of China, of July 23, 1900, and enter into communication with the relief expedition so that co-operation may be secured between them for the liberation of the legations, the protection of foreigners and the restoration of order. Such action on the part of the imperial government would be a satisfactory demonstration of its friendliness and desire to attain these ends.

CHINA APPEALS TO JAPAN.

Pekin Ruler Says Countries Are Threatened.

Victoria, Aug. 10.—Japanese papers publish a letter received by the emperor of Japan from the emperor of China, much on the lines of those sent to other powers, with this addition:

"We are of the opinion that the western powers at present are rivals while China and Japan hold the balance in the far east. Those countries which are waiting their chance to secure new possessions are watching not only China in the far east. Should China fail to stay or oppose western invaders, Japan may have her independence threatened. Thus China and Japan stand on the same footing. We should cast aside any small differences and try to preserve continued national existence of our two countries. China is now fully occupied in dispatching troops for the suppression of rioters and an alliance with a country whose destiny lies along the same lines as hers will succeed in dispelling the troubles and restoring order."

In his reply, after reading China a lesson on international law, the emperor of Japan says:

"If the Chinese government promptly relieves the foreign ministers before the foreign troops undertake the task it will show that the Chinese government is not inclined to undertake open hostilities with the powers and the disaster impending on the Chinese government may thereby be averted. The Japanese government and Japan will not hesitate to assist China if necessary. If the Chinese government will make efforts to effect the prompt suppression of the rioters and to relieve the foreign ministers, Japan shall protect the interests of China when the time for negotiations for peace with the powers arrives in the future."

PLACARDS READ "KILL ALL."

Notices Posted in Canton Urge Slaughter of "Foreign Devils."

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 10.—The Times has the following from its Kobe, Japan, correspondent:

A number of inflammatory placards have been posted up in the western suburbs of Canton, of which the following is a specimen:

"Kill all the German, the French, the American, and the English. Drive all the foreigns away and our hearts will rest in peace. Act with all your minds and strength and the great event will be accomplished. It will take but a few days for us to raise our troops. When the red flag is waving aloft the world will enjoy universal peace."

Missions Destroyed by Boxers.

Hongkong, Aug. 10.—The unrest in the neighborhood of Swatow increases daily. Various missions—American, English Presbyterian and Roman Catholic—on the border of the province of Fokien have been attacked and destroyed. A short distance from Swatow the imperial soldiers called on the mob to disperse, but finding the rioters too strong for them, interfered no further with their pillaging. Several native Christians were severely beaten. It is feared that unless the authorities act promptly there will be a general attack on the native Christians of the Swatow district.

Shanghai, Aug. 10.—A number of American missionaries have arrived here from Chunkiang.

Transports Reach Nagasaki.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—Two army transports, the Indiana and the Thomas, have arrived at Nagasaki. The Indiana will take a battalion of the 15th infantry and other supplies now aboard the Sumner and proceed to Taku, the Sumner going on to Manila. The Thomas sailed some days ago from Manila for San Francisco. She has on board siege guns and Maxim guns, which Gen. MacArthur is sending to Gen. Chaffee. These will be put aboard the Indiana to be carried to Taku.

Ocean Service Is Poor.

London, Aug. 10.—J. T. Harahan, vice-president of the Illinois Central railroad, arrived in England to arrange for an improved transatlantic freight service in connection with his line. Mr. Harahan said: "During the last year there has been a serious lack of ocean carriers from southern American ports, due principally to the heavy withdrawal of vessels for the South African transport service. New Orleans, the gulf terminus of the Illinois Central, has been specially affected. Our exports of cotton, lumber and their by-products are increasing by such leaps and bounds that American railways landing freight on the seacoast have their work cut out for them to secure adequate ocean transport service."

DE WET CROSSES THE VAAL.

Roberts Says Methuen Engaged Forces of Boer General.

HUNTER TAKES 4,140 MEN

Boers Driven from a Succession of Hills Which They Held Obstinately—Alleged Plot to Kill Roberts and Other British Officers.

London, Aug. 10.—The war office has received the following from Lord Roberts:

"Pretoria, Aug. 8.—An escaped prisoner yesterday morning informed Kitchener that De Wet had crossed the Vaal. Shortly afterward guns were heard, which I think must have been Methuen's, I having directed him to take up a position between Potchefstrom and Lindigul, where he should have been able to intercept the enemy, who crossed at De Wet's drift. Kitchener, with the cavalry and mounted infantry, is crossing. Hunter reports that he has taken altogether 4,140 prisoners, who are on their way from Cape Town to Ceylon. Two of the three guns he captured belonged to the Royal Horse artillery. Four thousand horses were taken and ten wagons of ammunition. One hundred and ninety-five thousand rounds of ammunition were destroyed. The garrison at Elands river, which I fear has been captured, consisted of 140 bushmen and 160 Rhodesians. I hoped Carrington would be in time to withdraw the garrison, but Delarey, hearing of Hamilton's approach, hurried westward and surrounded the garrison before Carrington arrived. Methuen reports that he engaged part of De Wet's force yesterday morning near Venterskrom and drove the enemy from a succession of hills, which they held obstinately. We had seven killed."

Pretoria, Aug. 10.—A plot to seize General Roberts and to shoot as many as possible of the British officers here has been discovered, it is alleged, and ten men charged with complicity have been arrested. Other alleged suspects are being closely watched, and it is expected that they will shortly be taken into custody.

MAIDS DANCE BAREFOOTED.

Mrs. Fish Plans Ancient Grape Tread for Newport Heiresses.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 10.—Newport heiresses in bare feet treading masses of grapes in the revel of a wine dance is to be the feature of Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish's latest social surprise. The half of Newport that is not busily preparing for Mrs Fish's dance on Aug. 21 is busy talking about it. This dance will be the most elaborate and unique of any yet devised by this clever woman. The most striking and conspicuous feature of Mrs. Fish's entertainment will be a vintage dance, to be participated in by men and maids. They will appear in peasant costumes of the different countries where the old custom of making wine by treading the grapes under foot prevails. Elaborate costumes are being prepared by those who have been honored by an invitation to appear in the new dance. On masses of grapes, which are selling in the market now for 25 cents per pound, the revellers will dance. Harry Lehr is busy with the details. Besides the grape dance there will be ballets, character dances and odd and novel features that the social world here has as yet only a bare intimation of.

MEETING NEW CONDITIONS.

Father Stenmans Tells of Readjustment of Church Affairs in Manila.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 10.—Father T. C. J. A. Stenmans of New Orleans, who went to Manila about a year ago with Archbishop Chappelle as his secretary, returned on the transport Sherman. He left for home last night. Archbishop Chapelle is in the Philippines as the representative of the holy see, adjusting the affairs of the Catholic church there to meet the new conditions of American ownership. Father Stenmans says that Archbishop Bernardino Nozaleda and the five bishops under him, all of whom are Spaniards, and have been in control of the church's affairs for years, are giving Archbishop Chapelle all the assistance in their power and are achieving good results.

"The American officers," says Father Stenmans, "are doing all they can to bring about peace, but in my mind it will be a long time before the present guerrilla warfare comes to an end."

Young Man Faints When Refused a License to Marry.

Lewiston, Ill., Aug. 10.—Joseph Deloss Campbell, who hailed from Missouri, applied at the county clerk's office here today to get a marriage license to wed Miss Jennie Pearl Weaver of Manly, a small town in this county. Mr. Campbell was accompanied by the mother of the prospective bride, and everything progressed nicely until County Clerk Efnor found that the girl was but 16 years of age. Then he refused to issue the license without the consent of the young lady's father, whom he recognized as the head of the family. When informed of this the young man fainted and it took the combined efforts of Dr. Hanson, the county clerk, and all his assistants to restore the would-be groom to consciousness. After pleading in vain with the clerk for several hours the young man and the girl's mother sorrowfully departed for home without the much-coveted license.

CROKER IS THREATENED.

"Your Turn Next," Says Letter Addressed by Reds.

New York, Aug. 10.—Richard Croker's life has been threatened by the Anarchists. The politician, who is now at Saratoga, has received the following terse letter: "Your turn next." Signed Paterson the Anarchist. Herbert, the youngest son of the Tammany chief, yesterday confirmed the story to an American reporter. "Yes," said young Croker, "I have a letter addressed to my father, in which it is strongly intimated that his life will be taken. He has received several threatening communications of this character in the last few days. I think it must have been written by one of the group to which Bressi belonged." Young Croker intimated that he would call the attention of the police to the matter.

IN HONOR OF ABE LINCOLN.

Memorial Hall Dedicated at Old Salem Chautauqua.

Petersburg, Ill., Aug. 10.—More than 10,000 people gathered at the Old Salem Chautauqua grounds today for the opening of the summer assembly and the dedication of the hall erected to the memory of Abraham Lincoln. The memorial has just been completed and stands upon ground where Abraham Lincoln passed his early life. The address of the day was made by President N. M. Branson of the state institution for the blind at Jacksonville, and music was furnished by the Chautauqua choir, in which is much Chicago talent.

Funds for the erection of the memorial were raised during the ten days of the Chautauqua last year. A Lincoln Memorial association was formed, with Dr. J. A. Glenn of Ashland as president. The response to the appeal was liberal and the building fund grew at the rate of several hundred dollars a day.

The building is designed also as a headquarters for visitors at the Chautauqua grounds, and especially for the old settlers. Comfortable chairs were provided, where the old folks may sit and interchange those reminiscences of the early days so dear tothe heart of the early settler at a country gathering. From the verandas of the hall an excellent view of the Sangamon river and the grounds is afforded. Near the hall is the large open air tabernacle, with a seating capacity of 10,000 people. It is formed by the sloping hillsides, and it is the largest Chautauqua amphitheater and the only one of its kind in the country.

Last year the crowd at the Old Salem Chautauqua was the largest of any assembly in the United States, and this year the management is expecting 4,000 people in camp on the grounds and a daily attendance of 7,000.

SWINDLERS FOUND GUILTY.

Dr. Regent and Delia Mahoney Get Penitentiary Sentences.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—The jury which for twenty-three days has been listening to the testimony in the Regent life insurance conspiracy case before Judge Brentano returned a verdict at 10 o'clock at night finding the four defendants guilty. The outcome in detail was: Dr. M. N. Regent—Adjudged a fine of $1,000 and imprisonment in penitentiary under indeterminate sentence law. Delia Mahoney—Fined $500 and given a penitentiary sentence under the same conditions. Nora O'Brien—Fined $500. James O'Brien—Fined $2,000. The four convicted criminals were immediately remanded, on the order of the judge, into the custody of the sheriff, Nora and James O'Brien in lieu of payment of the fines. The plotters buried corpses of paupers for those upon whom they drew insurance, and who were alive and well.

Flees from Whitecaps.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 10.—The assistant postmaster at Hastie has been driven from that place by threats of whitecaps. Anonymous letters were sent to him and he appealed to Sheriff Mattern of Polk county for protection. The sheriff refused to interfere, saying that he did not think the threats would be carried out. The man became frightened, however, and left. The occurrence is the outcome of a feud between two families, Caldwell and Grinstead. The assistant postmaster belonged to the Grinstead faction. He had been subjected to several outrages. On one occasion he was called from his store and brutally beaten. At another time he was subjected to similar treatment.

Bryan In Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—William J. Bryan with Adlai E. Stevenson, his running mate, came to Chicago from Indianapolis and will remain for four or five days. In that time it is expected the entire plan of campaign will be worked out. When Col. Bryan arrived at the Auditorium hotel he was asked what plans he would suggest at the conference which will be held here. He smiled and said that he would make his suggestions, if he had any, to the executive committee.

Mad Mother's Crime.

Creston, Iowa, Aug. 10.—Mrs. Mary E. Scales, recently out of an asylum, gave her 2-year-old daughter laudanum, from the effects of which the child died. She attempted to administer some of the same drug to her 6-year-old son, but he escaped and gave the alarm. She then locked herself in the house and took a fatal dose of the same drug.

Son Shot by His Father.

Churubusco, Ind., Aug. 10.—Isaac Bear was shot by his father, Sol Bear, and died instantly. The son was taking care of his father, who was supposed to be on his deathbed. He got out of bed, grabbed a shotgun, and, while the son was attempting to get it away, it was discharged, the entire contents entering the son's abdomen. The dead man leaves a widow and five children.

The First Baby.

When baby comes to the home it will bind the wife closer to the husband, or it will gradually tend to cut her off from his companship. A sickly mother loses in physical charm, and often in temper and disposition. A fretful child is a trial, even to loving parents. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription prepares the wife for motherhood. It strengthens the body, and induces a healthy condition of mind; free from anxiety or fear. It makes the baby's advent practically painless. The mother being healthy her child is healthy, and a healthy child is a happy child, a joy to the parents, linking them together with a new bond of affection.

There is no opium, cocaine or other narcotic in "Favorite Prescription."

"I read what your medicine has done for other people," writes Mrs. Edwin H. Cardner, of Beechwood, Norfolk Co., Mass., Box 70, "so thought I would try it, and I found it a blessing to me and family. I took your medicine a year when I had a ten pound girl. I had the easiest time I ever had with any of my three children, and I have been very well ever since. I took three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' three of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and three vials of 'Pellets.' Before I took your medicine I only weighed 135 pounds, and now I weigh 175 pounds."

Contagious Blood Poison

There is no poison so highly contagious, so deceptive and so destructive. Don't be too sure you are cured because all external signs of the disease have disappeared, and the doctor says you are well. Many persons have been dosed with Mercury and Potash for months or years, and pronounced cured—to realize when too late that the disease was only covered up—driven from the surface to break out again, and to their sorrow and mortification find those nearest and dearest to them have been infected by this loathsome disease, for no other poison is so surely transmitted from parent to child as this. Like Begets Like. Often a bad case of Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula or severe skin disease, an old sore or ulcer developing in middle life, can be traced to blood poison contracted in early The Sin of the Parent. life, for it remains smoldering in the system forever, unless properly treated and driven out in the beginning. S. S. S. is the only antidote for this peculiar virus, the only remedy known that can overcome it and drive it out of the blood, and it does this so thoroughly and effectually that there is never a return of the disease to embarrass or humiliate you afterwards.

SSS cures Contagious Blood Poison in any and all stages; contains no mineral to break down your constitution; it is purely vegetable and the only blood purifier known that cleanses the blood and at the same time builds up the general health.

Our little book on contagious blood poison is the most complete and instructive ever issued; it not only tells all about this disease, but also how to cure yourself at home. It is free and should be in the hands of everyone seeking a cure. Send for it.

CHAFFEE AND WILSON.

Facts About Officers Commanding American Forces In China.

WELL QUALIFIED FOR LEADERSHIP

Long Military Career of Chaffee and Some of the Stories Told About Him—His Modesty About "Hero Business"—His Skill as a Scout. General Wilson a Man of Great Tact.

Now that the advance on Peking has been begun by the forces of the allied powers it is of interest at this time to know something about the leaders of the American forces in China—namely, General Adna Romanza Chaffee, who is the chief in command, and General James H. Wilson, who is second in command.

For some reason which nobody has been able to explain satisfactorily a halo of romance has been thrown around General Chaffee almost from the time he wore shoulder straps. It is said he has been the hero of more romantic tales than any other officer in the regular service since the civil war. The general perhaps knows better than anybody else whether the majority of these stories is true, and in speaking of two or three of them one day not long ago he spoke as follows, says the New York Sun.

"Those yarns, like a lot of others I have heard told about me, are just plain, everyday lies. They sound pretty enough, but they're all rot. I'm no hero, and, if the plain hard truth were always told, there would be mighty few halos stuck around the heads of us army officers. We just go ahead and attend to our business like any other business man. We're put in certain places to succeed. If we do succeed, there is no particular sense in telling a lot of heroic lies about us, and if we fail—well, God help us."

But as many stories as have been told about General Chaffee's valor it is somewhat strange that, so far as he or his intimate friends have ever heard, no plain, ordinary biography of him has ever been written or printed.

To sketch General Chaffee's life, minus its incidents, is not a difficult task, or is it a long story. He was born in Zanesville, O., in 1843. His father was a farmer, and the son had the ordinary advantages of farmers' sons of the time. He went to the district school, then he went to an academy and then he went to war. He was 19 years old when the report of the firing on Fort Sumter reached Zanesville, and without consulting anybody he just determined that the country needed his services, and he started off for the nearest recruiting station and enlisted, not in a volunteer regiment, but in the Sixth United States cavalry, with which most of his service in the army has been connected, which sailed on the same transport with him for China. He joined the regiment as a private; he will lead it in China as a major general of volunteers.

It was not long after Chaffee enlisted that the Sixth cavalry saw plenty of active service, and it was not long before Chaffee showed that he was not of the stuff to remain a private. Whenever the regiment got into a scrimmage Chaffee was sure to do something or other that won the attention of his officers, and it was not long before he was made a sergeant, and when the war was over he came out with a lieutenant's shoulder straps and a brevet or two for particularly gallant conduct on particular occasions. He got his captaincy in 1867.

Almost immediately after the war Chaffee was sent to Texas with his regiment to put down some bushwhackers and border thieves who were committing depredations in Texas and Mexico. After that he remained on the frontier fighting Indians, whenever they needed fighting, until 1876. Then he was sent to New York for a year on recruiting duty. Then he joined the regiment in Arizona, fought the battle of Big Dry Wash Canyon against the Apaches and, just to remind folks that he was still on earth, distinguished himself once more. The federal troops were on one side of the canyon and the Indians on the other. Chaffee was out in front of the firing line with scouts, and it may be said in passing that that is where Chaffee usually is when he has a fight on his hands. The Indians were dropping bullets across that canyon in pretty lively style. Suddenly one of the scouts fell about 100 feet from where Chaffee was standing. A scout near him said: "There goes So-and-so, poor fellow! He's evidently done for."

Chaffee looked at the fallen soldier very steadily for a minute or two and then noticed a movement of the body. "He's only wounded," he exclaimed. "Come along, and we'll fetch him in." To go out after the soldier meant to expose himself and the men whom he had asked to accompany him to the concentrated fire of all the redskins on the opposite side of the canyon. That didn't seem to concern Chaffee a particle. Throwing himself flat on the ground, he crawled toward the wounded soldier. The scout followed. Slowly and somewhat painfully the two men crawled along until they reached the wounded man. With great difficulty they half carried, half dragged him back within the lines. So thrilled were his men with the deed that had been performed that they quite forgot all about fighting Indians, stopped firing and began to cheer. This made Chaffee furious. Almost dropping his end of the burden, he yelled out in tones that no man could fail to hear:

"Shut up that noise and go to shooting!"

Chaffee was a close student of Indian habits and characteristics, and he had not been fighting on the frontier long before he was as clever at some of the Indian tricks as were the redskins themselves. It is well known, of course, that an Indian can follow the trail of a man on foot or on horseback when most folks would find nothing to indicate that any living person had passed that way. This was one of the tricks which Chaffee acquired. He could go through woods or dense underbrush and follow a trail by noticing broken twigs or branches brushed one side or in a hundred other ways known chiefly to the American Indian.

Chaffee served with the Sixth cavalry until July, 1888, more than a quarter of a century, when he was made a major and assigned to the Ninth (colored) cavalry. He was with the Ninth for the next nine years, when he was again promoted and became the lieutenant colonel of the Third cavalry on June 1, 1897. He was serving with the Third when the war with Spain began. General officers were needed, and Lieutenant Colonel Chaffee was one of the first to be appointed a brigadier general of volunteers. He was commissioned on May 4, 1898, and commanded a brigade from Las Guasimas to El Caney. It was at El Caney that the general fought his last fight and won new laurels. Many stories have been told about Chaffee's marvelous nerve and bravery during that battle. He himself is the authority for the statement that not more than one-third of the stories that have been told and written about him are true.

No matter how much General Chaffee may try, he will not be able altogether to belittle his performances during the war in Cuba. For instance, no matter what he may say of it, his brother officers will not forget a certain performance of his one night at Santiago. It was before the attack on the city had been made, and Sampson's ships were lying outside the harbor entrance, ready to smash Cervera's fleet as soon as it should ever make the attempt to come out. Much had been said about the strength of the fortifications about Morro castle. As a matter of fact, however, nobody knew exactly how strong they were, and, what was much more to the point, there were no maps to show the best way by which a land attack could be made while Sampson was attacking, if he did attack, from the sea. Chaffee knew this, and one evening he just disappeared for awhile, nobody knowing what had become of him. After a little he came back, and one of the officers asked where he had been.

"Oh, I just went out to walk off my dinner," was Chaffee's reply. Then he pulled out of his pocket a number of papers upon which were rough sketches. He laid them out before the officers and said, "Here's something we may need before we get through with this business." And then he explained that he had discovered two trails leading to Morro castle, had made sketches of them as best he could, without knowing very much of what he was drawing on account of the darkness, and kept on until he had got actually within the Spanish lines.

"Suddenly," said Chaffee, "I heard a sentinel cough, and it nearly scared me to death. I didn't know I had got so far, and I put back as quickly as I could." Then he lighted a cigar and proceeded to correct his drawings. As it turned out, they were never needed, but the person who told this story to the reporter—this is one of the stories that are true—said they would have been of invaluable assistance had a land attack on Morro at Santiago been necessary, and by the aid they would have given it might have been possible to completely surprise the Spanish garrison.

As a commander General Chaffee is a strict disciplinarian, but not in any sense a martinet. He requires of his men just as much as he requires of himself and no more. He expects every member of his command to do his duty in as painstaking a manner as he does it himself. The care which he takes of his men, the consideration which he shows them and the fact that he never has yet asked one of them to go where he wouldn't go himself have made him loved with a strong love by every man who has ever served under him. Perhaps the best illustration of what his men think of him was the remark made by old Sergeant Woodhall of the Sixth cavalry when he was dying after the battle of El Caney. He had received a mortal wound and knew that he didn't have long to live. Turning to one of the men who were sitting by him, the old sergeant said:

"It's been a pretty long service I've had, and I've had some pretty close calls, but they've got me now. Of course, he's busy at the front, but I do wish I could see the 'old man' just once before I go. It's worth something to fight under him, and I tell you the boys of the Sixth would be willing to go through hell if they knew the 'old man' was with them."

Although an utterly fearless man, General Chaffee has a wonderful regard for the lives of the men under him. It is for that reason probably that it is said of him that he never goes into battle without having first known of his own knowledge as much of the strength and position of the enemy as it is possible to ascertain. It is because of this fact that his men give him their confidence so unreservedly.

It has been said of General Wilson that in some respects he was the greatest cavalry general of the war, Sheridan not excepted. Since he was graduated from West Point it has been his lot to have commanded larger bodies of troops than has General Chaffee, and it has been said of him that he was one of the most skillful tacticians of the civil war. However all this may be, regular army officers are agreed, and this is the wonder, that Chaffee and Wilson will add a new luster to American arms in the land of tea and Boxers.
